

“It is very rewarding for Health Coaches to be able to access real time, relevant data that they can use to proactively assist their members in best controlling their chronic conditions, and the Eocene products have made that a reality for our nurses and their clients. We anticipated some resistance when members were asked to transition their monitors, however, they easily adapted to the technology and seem honestly receptive to our enhanced coaching efforts and the opportunity to have someone assisting them in the rigors of tracking and monitoring their conditions. We have also enjoyed tremendous customer and technical support from Infopia since the initial inception regarding all facets of the implementation. We advocate that our groups employ cost effective, win/win strategies to enhance their Wellness programs and we are pleased to be able to offer them the relationship that we share with Infopia.”
